

HUMAN IMPACT PROTECTION

In today's world of physical activity, the risk of injury due to glass breakage is ever increasing. At kindergarten, school, work or at home, DeSign Tints Safety Films provide peace of mind by laminating to the internal face of glass, doors and windows. The application of this product meets the all current compliance standards, therefore, ensuring a 'Duty of Care' is provided. Government Depts, Schools, Child Care Centres, Residential Landlords and Building Owners and Managers must be aware of their obligations in ensuring their own properties meet the safety compliance legislation and therefore have a responsibility to ensure the glass in their properties is audited and meets the required standard. Injuries cannot be stopped but DeSign Tints Safety Films can significantly reduce the devastating effects of an unforeseen incident. Ask us about an obligation free consultation to ensure you are providing a 'Duty of Care' to your clients and tenants.

MANIFESTATION (MAKING GLASS VISIBLE)

In today's world of physical activity, the risk of injury due to glass being mistaken for a doorway or an unimpeded path of travel needs to be clearly identified. The regulations for this are under NZS 4223: Part 3 - 303. The presence of glazing shall be made apparent either by the provision of an opaque band (vision strip) across the full width of the glazed opening. This should be minimum of 20mm high and set between 700 to 1000mm above the floor to the lower level of the strip. This applies to glazing 500mm and wider. At kindergarten, school, work or at home, DeSign Tints Window Films give you peace of mind by providing vision strips that can be plain or decorative with designs, company logos etc. The application of this product meets the current compliance standards, therefore, ensuring a 'Duty of Care' to your clients and tenants, and creating a safe work place.
